SMALL GROUPS

Can't seem to find a fit?

Shoot us an email so we can see what can be done.

 Stan stan.cox@sympatico.ca

Are you interested in hosting or helping facilitate a group?

We would love to hear from you.

 Stan stan.cox@sympatico.ca

We have a wide range of groups that meet on a regular basis. Some meet in homes, some in the church, and some over a cup of coffee or a beer in one of the downtown establishments. They cover various themes and follow different structures, but they all share the same goal: connecting people with others and with God.

Feel free to contact any of the various leaders or try out a group to see if it is a good fit. No strings attached.

MO AM Ladies Book Club • 9:30am.

The Monday morning book club is a group of women of a wide age range, who meet weekly to discuss a biblically based novel or book, typically on a chapter by-chapter basis. We strive to create a relaxed, nonjudgmental discussion of a variety of topics. There is childcare provided in the nursery, while we meet in the teen room on the upper level of the church. In addition to discussion and laughter we also have outreach opportunities, for example, cooking for the Fill the Freezer program and Christmas baskets.
